 Resolution No. 2025 -13 (FCSS)

WHEREAS, abused and neglected children are 11 times more likely to engage in criminal behavior as an adult. National Child Abuse Prevention Month is recognized in April to provide information about child abuse and neglect in the U.S. This year's national campaign theme is "Doing Things Differently: Believing in Community" to encourage communities to work together to support families, rather than just responding to incidents of abuse and neglect. The Fresno County Superintendent of Schools is dedicated to providing programs to help families in all Fresno County school districts. Please visit one of our 12 Wellness Centers if you need mental health services for youth or to get connected to help.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Fresno County Board of Education and the Fresno County Superintendent of Schools do hereby recognize the month of April 2025 as National Child Abuse Prevention month and encourage all Fresno County School Districts to participate with appropriate activities and curriculum on this month and throughout the year.
